The splendour of truth shines forth in all the works of the Creator and, in a special way, in man, created in the image and likeness of God (cf. Gen 1:26). Truth enlightens man's intelligence and shapes his freedom, leading him to know and love the Lord. Hence the Psalmist prays: "Let the light of your face shine on us, O Lord" (Ps 4:6).

What's wrong with the world is that sin was found in Satan, and then, through his tempting of Adam and Eve, sin was found in one man, and transmitted to his offspring. The problem of sin and of Satan must be solved. The Problem Develops in the Old Testament. In Genesis 3 we find: 1. God seeks out Adam, who has hidden from Him (3:8-10) 2. God sorts out and points out the sin and meets out ...

Any circumstance leading to sin is called an occasion of sin. It may be proximate or remote. A proximate occasion is one which usually leads us into sin. A remote occasion is one in which we sometimes though seldom commit sin. Persons, places, and things may all become occasions of sin, some to one person, some to another. Certain things, such as bad companions, improper conversations, bad ...

This sin is Satan's fort-royal, all his strength lies here; and though we beat down his out-works, gross sin, yet if we let him hold this fort of complexion-sin, it is as much as he desires. The devil can hold a man as fast by this one link, as by a whole chain of vices. The fowler hath the bird fast enough by one wing. Now, an upright Christian will not indulge himself in this complexion-sin:
